

Rainforest facts!

Did you know?

Amazingly, an anteaters tongue can grow up to 60cm in length. And a blue morpho butterfly wings are 20 cm in how wide they are.

If you are scared of eagles don't go to the rainforest because there is a monkey eating eagle.

Layers

Emergent

Canopy

Understory

Forest floor

A jaguar bites really strong so its prey dies and a worlds smallest monkey lives in the rainforest it is called a pygmy marmoset and it bites really hard.

Did you know?

Bananas, avocados, pineapples, passion fruit and chocolate could of come from the rainforest.

Sad news An area of trees the size of a football pitch gets cut down every second.

Pygmy marmoset

Harpy eagle carrying a sloth

Spider monkey

Harpy eagle

The jaguar has powerful jaws and very sharp teeth. The pointy canine teeth are used for biting, tearing and ripping meat.

Hear a jaguar roar!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SS53enMsEZg>

